General guideline/run-of-show for tours:

Your tour will start off with a welcome cocktail to enjoy as you are greeted by your tour guide. As Portland's longest-running craft distillery, we'll share not just the history of New Deal Distillery but also anecdotes about the founding of Distillery Row, as well as, a brief overview of the craft distilling scene in Portland and throughout Oregon.

During the guided tour of our distiller's workshop, guests will get a brief overview of the spirits we make and what makes them special, including a chance to observe aspects of the craft spirits manufacturing process. Depending on the time of the year and the production schedule for the day, tour groups will have a chance to experience mashing, fermentation, maceration, distillation, bottling, or barrel sampling.

At the conclusion of the tour, guests can stay and enjoy mini cocktails or spirits flights at their leisure and peruse our Bottle Shop, where you will find a one-stop shop supplying all your home cocktailing needs combined with a thoughtful selection of local beer, wine, cider, and non-alcoholic drinks, plus gifts, barware, books, and more for the home bartending enthusiast.

New Deal Distillery Tour & Event Packages

Group Buyout Rate (13-25 people)

Frequently asked Questions:

Timing: Event packages are offered Thursday-Sunday, the length may be up to 1.5 hours. The start time can be discussed depending on the day of the booking.

Party size: Maximum party size: 25. Parties with 13-25 guests are booked as a buyout group rate. If your party size shrinks, please give us advanced notice. Large groups will need to tour the production area in two separate groups. While the first group is guided through the distiller's workshop, the second group may hang out in the Bottle Shop & Tasting Room and enjoy their drinks and snacks (if applicable).

Your booking reserves: space, staffing, and cocktail preparation for your specific guest count. While your party is here, our Bottle Shop remains open to the public, however, your event is the priority. If the privacy of your guests is important, please inquire about special accommodations available at an additional cost.

Customization Requests: Package customizations are considered on a case-by-case basis.

Food: We advise people to eat before they come. Any personal food must be self-contained. Light snacks are a part of the Farm to Flask tour only.
